POETRY.

ONE AND ALL.

—“Oh, tell me, father, was the land

Bestow'd on king's alone,

Who reign and rule with high command

Upon a golden throne?

It may be so; and yet I see,

When, children-like, at play,

We quite as happy seem to be

As those in rich array.

Oh, was it for a tyrant made,

The people to appal!

“No, child, no, child,” the father said—

“‘Twas made for one and all.”

—“Oh! father, fame is won, they say.

Upon the battle-field,

Where men for kings each other slay,

And cowards only yield;

Methinks I see my brother bleed,

And hear his piteous sigh,

Without a hand to soothe his need,

A friend to watch him die.

Oh! tell me were men born to kill,

That man by man should fall?

No, child, it is not heaven's will,

This world was made for all.

—“Twas made for one and all!”

—“All things we hear and look upon,

From bee to merry bird,

Will tell a tale more sweet, my son,

Than human lip can word;

There's beauty in the flowing brook,

And in the rainbow's light;

A promise in that silent look.

Revealed by starry night.

On golden thrones let rulers reign,

And man, frail man, enthrall;

A mighty power can break the chain—

—“Twas made for one and all!”

—“Twas made for one and all!”

THE "MORAL SENSE" OF THE BLACK REPUBLICANS.

The past history of the party known as the anti-slavery or Black Republican party, is familiar, we presume, to each and all of our readers. Regardless of all constitutional obligations; regardless of duties as members of a common country; in violation of right and justice, and heedless of the risks to the peace, quiet, and permanency of the Union, this infamous and diabolical faction have, without cessation or relaxation, made war upon the South and her institutions. Notwithstanding the appeals to their reason and common sense, they have persisted in a systematic attempt to break us down, and have reared upon our people the exhaustless vials of their poisonous and vile vituperation and malice.—Even to the shedding of blood have they persevered in their designs, and the speedy dissolution of the Union inevitable upon the consummation of their plans is powerless to arrest their efforts in their wild crusade.

To resist the encroachments of this abominable and dangerous combination, the candidate of the Opposition in this, the first Congressional district of North Carolina, proposes an appeal to its "Moral sense." In the discussion at Woolville, Dr. Shaw, very properly, stated that the Democratic party at the North, was the only party opposed to the schemes and plans of the free soilers and the only hope of the South in the hour of danger, and it was the duty of the South to strengthen its friends in the North by sending men to Congress supporting the same principles. Mr. Smith would go there, so said Mr. Smith, appealing to the "moral sense" of these Black Republicans. He would go there and pray them to do the same raised to destroy, expecting that their "Moral sense" would induce them to turn a kindly ear to his petition.

Our accounts speak most flatteringly of the triumph of our candidate in his discussions with Mr. Smith. Every where that he has spoken, he has more than met the expectations of his friends, and astonished his enemies. His vindication of the Democratic party from the charges with which it is assailed by Mr. Smith, and his bold and forcible exposition of its principles and powerful exposure of the rotteness, profligacy, and trickery, and corruptions of the Opposition, are complete and overwhelming. While his antagonist is forced to rely upon the oft refuted charge of extravagance against the Administration, and to tell the oft told tale of the "coal agency"—the spice of all his harangues, having no principles to defend and fearing to attack but a single vote of Dr. Shaw, he boldly takes his stand upon the platform of his party, holds up to the admiring gaze of his auditory the immutable principles of the Democratic party, burls back the charges of his opponent, carries the war into Africa, and shows up in vivid colors the deceptive character of this conglomeration of repulsive materials, known as the "Opposition."—Every word he utters has an inspiring tendency upon his friends, and his speeches carry dismay and confusion into the ranks of the enemy. Even his foes confess his ability, as is proven by an Opposition correspondent of the Weldon Patriot; speaking of his speech in Windsor, he says:

Dr. Shaw replied in a speech of one hour's length, which we will do him the justice to say in point of ingenuity was equal to any that we have ever heard from him.

He is doing his duty, his whole duty, and his triumph in August is, we consider, certain. Let Democrats perform their part in the play as well and his majority will be such as to convince Know Nothingism that the old first is irretrievably lost to them.

MR. SMITH AND THE STATE DEBT.

We published last week an article from the Raleigh Standard, and to-day we give another from the same paper, in relation to the charge which Mr. Smith has been making in the canvass against the Democratic party, holding it responsible for the increased taxes to which our people are subject. The taxes were considerably increased by the last Legislature, and the Legislature was Democratic, but does that argue Democratic responsibility for high taxes? The question should be, not who imposed the high taxes, but who created the necessity for this increased rate of taxation? The Democratic party did pass the present revenue bill, but it was to provide for the unwise and injudicious legislation of the Whig party. When the appropriations, to meet which the present tax bill was passed, were made the Whig party was in the ascendency, and when the time came to pay off these debts thus contracted, they refused to provide for the payment, being anxious for political capital, to see the State repudiate her just debts. The Democratic party assumed, manfully assumed, the responsibility, and saved the State from a lasting and damnable disgrace. As well might you charge wanton cruelty upon the surgeon who applies the knife to the lacerated limb of some poor unfortunate to save the life that carelessness or intention has jeopardized, as to attempt to hold the Democratic party accountable for the present high rate of taxation. It is the remedy, and Mr. Smith knows it, and for the life of us we cannot see how he can reconcile it with his sense of justice to make any such charge. It exhibits the shifts to which he is forced to resort. Let him face the record, and tell the people truly to whom the people are indebted for the taxes which they now pay. Let him face the record and tell the people that for party purposes he refused to provide the means to save the good old State from repudiation. His party was instrumental in burdening North Carolina with her present debt, and when called upon to raise funds to liquidate it, he backed down, and left the work in the hands of the Democracy. Col. Outlaw, one of his party friends, could not stand such injustice, and like a true man, came forward and assisted the Democrats to pass the bill for raising the adequate amount of revenue. Mr. Smith would not.

We must do him the justice to say that he has abandoned this charge, as we are informed, since leaving the eastern portion of the district, not having alluded to the State debt for some time. He should have been ashamed of it sooner.

DR. SHAW.

Our accounts speak most flatteringly of the triumph of our candidate in his discussions with Mr. Smith. Every where that he has spoken, he has more than met the expectations of his friends, and astonished his enemies. His vindication of the Democratic party from the charges with which it is assailed by Mr. Smith, and his bold and forcible exposition of its principles and powerful exposure of the rotteness, profligacy, and trickery, and corruptions of the Opposition, are complete and overwhelming. While his antagonist is forced to rely upon the oft refuted charge of extravagance against the Administration, and to tell the oft told tale of the "coal agency"— the spice of all his harangues, having no principles to defend and fearing to attack but a single vote of Dr. Shaw, he boldly takes his stand upon the platform of his party, holds up to the admiring gaze of his auditory the immutable principles of the Democratic party, burls back the charges of his opponent, carries the war into Africa, and shows up in vivid colors the deceptive character of this conglomeration of repulsive materials, known as the "Opposition."—Every word he utters has an inspiring tendency upon his friends, and his speeches carry dismay and confusion into the ranks of the enemy. Even his foes confess his ability, as is proven by an Opposition correspondent of the Weldon Patriot; speaking of his speech in Windsor, he says:

Dr. Shaw replied in a speech of one hour's length, which we will do him the justice to say in point of ingenuity was equal to any that we have ever heard from him.

He is doing his duty, his whole duty, and his triumph in August is, we consider, certain. Let Democrats perform their part in the play as well and his majority will be such as to convince Know Nothingism that the old first is irretrievably lost to them.

BERTIE.

The Democrats in Bertie, as we learn from a letter from a valued friend, are working manfully, and are determined to give a good account of themselves in August. There are to be three large meetings in the county previous to the election, each of which a bountiful supply of eatables will be spread out. Several of our best speakers will be present, and they intend to have a jolly time generally.

The Raleigh Register is mistaken in supposing that we "denied indignantly" that Dr. Shaw was opposed to the "Thirty Million Bill." Though opposed to the Bill we do not think any man need be ashamed of being its advocate. We doubt the wisdom of the measure, hence our opposition. We were "indignant" at the gross misrepresentation of Dr. Shaw's position contained in that truthful document, yeled:

"What it costs to be governed."

The advertisement of the N. & P. Railroad in our next.

THE DEMOCRACY OF PERQUIMANS.

We call attention to the notice of the Perquimans Democracy, for a Mass Meeting on the 28th. Our friends have bucked on their armor in good earnest and intend to give a noble account of themselves in August.

AROUSE DEMOCRATS, AND PREPARE FOR VICTORY!

The 4th of August is rapidly approaching. The opposition are en rampant. They boast their candidate as already elected. Through their magic lamps they behold him plodding "his weary way" to Washington, and even now they seem to claim the "lion's part."

They seem to forget that the test is at the polls, with ballots and not with hickory sticks. They are acting the same as in the last Congressional election. Their candidate before the election, was elected by assurance doubly sure, "but after the election they were found to have 'much cry and little wool.'

Then arose Democrats, and prepare for Victory! Remember whom ye are to cope with; a conglomeration of isms; Whigism, Know-Nothingism, Anti-Naturalizationism, Americanism, Oppositionism, "Whom their crowded country vomits forth To desperate ventures and assured destruction."

Remember that ours is a party of principle, not of expediency—not organized merely for the purpose of getting possession of the government offices.

Remember that ours is the conservative party—that party which protects the manufacturer of the North and the planter of the South. It is the time-honored party, whose principles are as familiar as "household words." It is the party which commands the respect of its opposers, and of the enemies of the South. Hear Horace Greeley; pro-slavery and Democracy are synonymous terms. Slavery at the South cannot fall, till the Democratic party falls.

Then arouse Democrats and prepare for Victory! Cling to your standard-bearer. Pasquotank and Camden are not the fuel of the District. Our friends are in arms.

The news from the different portions of the District is cheering. Two years ago the American-Whig, W. N. H. Smith, was beaten by our indomitable champion, the Democrat, Henry M. Shaw. Shall we degenerate? Awake, arouse yourselves. Say but one word, "I will," and by a greater majority elect the Democrat Henry M. Shaw, over the oppositionist, W. N. H. Smith.

Democrats, arouse! Be determined—begin in time—lift yourselves up and discomfit your foes by your own strength—by the justice of your cause.

DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING IN PERQUIMANS.

The Democracy of Perquimans will hold a grand Mass Meeting at Cedar Grove, on Thursday, the 28th, at which time Gov. Bragg, will certainly be in attendance, and address the people. M. W. Ransom, T. J. Person, Wm. Hill, W. W. Holden, E. G. Haywood, E. C. Hines, J. C. Badham, Wm. F. Martin, L. D. Starke, C. H. Foster, W. A. Moore, J. W. Moore, J. P. Jordan, and others have been invited, and are confidently expected to be present. A plentiful dinner will be prepared, to which all are cordially invited to come and partake freely.

B R A G G A D O C I A !

The Knownothinggs are consistent in two things, and two things only. They never sight of the spoils, and can beat creation at the game of bragg.

Did we not know them so well, we should long ago have given up in despair, and confessed the election of Mr. Smith, as beyond doubt. Fortunately, however, for us, we are acquainted with the gentlemen, and understand well what their bragging is worth. They boast as well with the certainty of defeat before them, as when reasonably calculating upon a victory. It has become second nature with them, and they can't help it. There is nothing alarming in it!

NEWS PAPER CHANGE.

Mr. Nicholson has retired from the Murfreesboro Citizen, and proposes to establish in Halifax a paper devoted to the propagation of Democratic principles. The Citizen is now under the exclusive control of Mr. C. H. Foster.

The Editor of the Edenton Express is informed that we neither seek or desire his advice upon the matters, public or private, that we shall "attend" to. When he feels himself aggrieved at anything we do or say, he may apply the remedy.

[For the Democratic Pioneer.]

RETRENCHMENT.

The Opposition speakers, during this present Congressional canvass are crying and heaping denunciations in unmeasured terms, (some times in the veriest Billingsgate slang) upon the Democratic party, on account of extravagance and corruption in appropriating the public money to defray the expenses of the government. This sort of thing seems to constitute the principal part of their political trading capital; and the whole of this cost is charged upon the Democratic party. Now, the facts are that the improvements on the Capitol were advised and planned by Mr. Fillmore; that he appointed the officers who allowed the accounts and made the disbursements; that the appropriations were made by an "opposition" Congress; and that much of the "fitting up" was carried on by Cullom, the Know Nothing Clerk of the House, who was detected in fraud, and who has been indicted for misappropriating funds entrusted to his use. During that whole session, which was the greatest body of the Democratic members voted, against all extravagant appropriations, as the journals will show; but these appropriations were carried by the friends of Fillmore and the black Republicans. These are the facts; and yet in the face of these facts Messrs. Leach, Gilmer, Smith, Vance and others are attempting to hold Mr. Buchanan's administration responsible. We tell the people that they owe it to themselves and to the cause of truth, to receive with many grains of allowance any political statement which Know Nothings make. They were sworn to mislead and deceive in 1856, and we do not think they are better now than they were then.

It is also charged in the pamphlet referred to, that the expenditures of the federal government increased from 1852 to 1858, $45,000,000. This is not true. We have taken the trouble to investigate the matter, and we find that this pamphlet contains the grossest falsehoods, as we will show. It states, for example, that the expenditures under Mr. Fillmore in 1852, were $36,552,080 37; under Mr. Pierce in 1856, $60,172,401 64; under Mr. Buchanan in 1858, $38,856,727 00. Now, what are the facts? Why, the entire expenditures for 1852, as Mr. Fillmore himself states in his message, were $40,007,896 29, from which $9,455,815, 83 are to be deducted on account of payments on the public debt; leaving the sum as above given from the pamphlet. Now, if the authors of this pamphlet had given the expenditures of subsequent administrations in the same way—if they had deducted the payments on the public debt, their statements would have been fair and true; but they have done no such thing. The expenditures for 1856 were $60,172,401 64, as given in the pamphlet; but from this it is deduced to be $36,000,000, paid in execution of the treaty with Mexico—leaving $67,172,401 64 as the amount for 1856 is given correctly in the pamphlet on reference to Mr. Buchanan's message; but the amount for 1856 is greatly overstated. The expenditures for 1858, as stated by Mr. Buchanan in his message were $81,685,657 76, $2,71,059 24 less than given in the pamphlet; but from this is to be deducted the sum of $9,684,537 99 on account of the public debt, which leaves $71,901,129 77 as the amount for 1858, showing a difference of eleven millions nine hundred and fifty-five thousand five hundred and ninety-seven dollars and twenty-three cents between the real amount and that given in the pamphlet.

Democrats, "we will hold you responsible for it all, because there is a Democratic President." They attempted, in the last session of Congress, to carry out their purposes by trying to prevent the passage of bills, greatly reducing the appropriations. If they could have secured a majority then, as they had done before, by the aid of a few Democrats, and have passed other extravagant bills, they would have cried out now, if possible, against the Democratic party, that they do now, but fortunately for the country and for the morals of the Opposition speakers, the Democrats received a majority in the House of Representatives, and succeeded after a long struggle in cutting down the appropriations for the fiscal year, ending June 30th, 1860, to $41,000,000, an amount less than was required for a year during the administration of Mr. Fillmore.

One, who did not know and understand the tactics of the opposition, might be disposed, after hearing them now, to believe that they would have rejoiced at an opportunity to vote for bills reducing the appropriation so much, yet such a one would be deceived—utterly deceived. They voted against the reduction; lopping off extravagance at that time did not suit their purposes and plans for the electioneering campaign that were about to come off. Therefore, when the bills making appropriations for the civil expenses, and for the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial expenses for the fiscal year ending on the 30th of June, 1860—the very bills in and by which millions upon millions of money were saved to the country,—when these bills were on their passage, the vote stood thus—

On passage of bill making appropriation for Civil expenses, yeas Dem. 84. K. N. 5. Blk Rep. 10. Nays, Dem. 7. K. N. 4. Blk Rep. 64.

On passage of bill making appropriations for Legislation to the Expenses, yeas, Dem. 98. K. N. 3. Blk Rep. 5. Nays. Dem. 2. K. N. 9. Blk Rep. 72.

Retrenchment and reform could only be effected by the strength of Democratic votes. Out of 83 of the Opposition, who voted on the first bill only 15 could be got to vote for it; and only 8 out of 89 could be got to vote for the second bill; whilst of the 91 Democrats voting on the first bill 84 voted for it; and 98 out of 100 Democrats voted for the second bill.

The above showing looks bad enough, but it is not all. During the pendency of these bills, a proposition was made, to abolish the franking privilege of members of Congress. The effect of that would be to commence the reformation of abuses amongst the members themselves, and save to the public treasury more than a million of dollars yearly—some say as much as five millions. That was an opportunity for the Oppositionists, to show their much vaunted patriotism and love of economy. But they failed to do so, and, only 2 K. N. and 13 Blk Rep.—making 15 in all—out of their entire ranks could be got to vote for it, and now they are trying to persuade honest people that all the corruption is in the Democratic party, and that they only are pure, and fit to be trusted with the public money. "Even so they also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within they are full of hypocrisy and iniquity, for they load them with burdens grievous to be borne, and they themselves touch not the burdens with one of their fingers"—Woe unto them, yeafores!
